Daily Guide to the
Mayan Sacred Calendar

Oc (Dog)

Call for Art

We are thrilled with the interest and support we have been given for our Mayan Calendar. We are envisioning another year of expanding our family whose intention is alignment with Source Energy as we count down to 2012. What we pay attention to as we follow this sacred Count of Days is what aligns us vibrationally with the Divine Source. We will become deliberate creators of all we desire. I truly appreciate joining with you for the purpose of co-creating. I feel it happening, can't you?

Jan. 1, 2009 begins the year of OC (Dog). We would like to include art that aligns with the energy of this Glyph, which might include more dog related pictures and art forms. The aspects of unconditional love, loyalty, relationships of family and friends can be represented in a variety of ways. All entries must be sent as a digital file by e-mail or on a disc, no print photos please. Deadline is Feb. 29th. No returns on submissions. Also any favorite poems or quotes are welcome.

Please send all entries to: countofdays@msn.com

May all we create; reflect all that we want for ourselves and our world,
Always and in all ways heartfelt appreciation.
