"I just got to tell you Michael that this month's video was such a good listen. Keep them coming!"

Tip of the Week:

The Last Quarter Moon Phase now underway aligns well with the season, as it symbolically corresponds to autumn. The New Moon occurs at 9 Scorpio 35 on November 1, so Halloween will be dark and cold, also in alignment with its traditional themes of death and macabre mysticism, in turn, aligned with Scorpio time.

The deeper story is that of the U.S. Election. It coincides with what has emerged as a nation divided deeper than it has been since the Civil War which began in 1861, or 163 years ago. The War of Independence began in 1775, or 249 years ago and it lasted 8 years! Interestingly, Neptune's cycle is 164.8 years and Pluto's is 248.5 years. Neptune is symbolic of ideals and the Civil War that began in 1861 can be understood as one of ideals associated with humanism beyond the superficiality of racial differences. That the anniversary of the War of Independence coincides with Pluto's return, the planet of death, rebirth, regeneration, and transformation, having completed one full cycle, is also noteworthy.

The synchronicity is unmistakable and reveals that the current 'state of the nation' is not simply circumstantial; it is a feature of destiny. The question is not one of 'if', but of how these processes of regeneration, including the ideals of the country, will occur.

Interestingly, while there are many factors to consider, the USA also experienced a Progressed New Moon on March 25, 2024! It equates to a very significant 29.5-year cycle that refers not simply to the next chapter, but to the next sequel, as with a novel series having multiple books. In this regard, this sequel does indeed look... challenging, in terms of a revolutionary fervor to rebuild the country.

Weekly Horoscope:

Aries (Mar 21 – Apr 20)

Scorpio time indicates a deep dive, especially this year and especially for you. Mercury there is guiding an ardent investigation fully supported by justifiable skepticism. Mars in Cancer meanwhile is pushing you to get to the roots, the core, or the heart of the matter. In any case, you are probably busy on a variety of fronts and this trend will continue.

Taurus (Apr 20 – May 21)

A shift of focus to relationship fronts includes themes of freedom, adventure, and exploration. Variety is the spice you yearn for so it is a good time to seek opportunities both inter-personally and culturally. Opportunism is a part of the plot and you will be at least indirectly keeping watch for openings, if not deliberately charging towards them.

Gemini (May 21 – Jun 21)

Health interests, concerns, and considerations have shifted to front-and-center. These probably include adjustments in your usual rhythm and routine. Meanwhile, you yearn for more excitement. This could well amount to creative, artistic activities. Yet, you could also simply appreciate the expressions of others. Inspiration and upliftment are keywords.

Cancer (Jun 21 – Jul 22)

A provocative, passionate, and playful mood has been rising steadily. With it comes a force of determination that will not be idly deflected or ignored. The danger is that you could become controlling and dominant. Positively, you will succeed in harnessing this abundant power potential and direct it to productive ends.

Leo (Jul 22 – Aug 23)

Conducting a closer assessment of your financial situation is a current theme. You want deeper answers and are determined to break through illusions, delusions, or wishful thinking, whether your own or those of significant others. Guided by a focus on the future, you are determined to take a creative approach to feel more secure.

Virgo (Aug 23 – Sep 22)

Scorpio time has shifted your focus to a combination of more diversity and a deeper focus. This complex weave could require more effort than usual. Repairs, corrections, refinements, and improvements are featured. These are associated with your lifestyle in general and this trend will continue.

Libra (Sep 22 – Oct 22)

Getting clear on your priorities probably includes a close assessment of your financials. Knowing where you must, where you could, and where you shouldn't allocate money is featured. Yet, the focus could be on your energy investments as well, encompassing physical and psychological realities. Focusing on improving your health is also on the list.

Scorpio (Oct 22 – Nov 21)

The Sun in your sign makes it your time to shine. Yet, the overall scope indicates that you are contending with complex matters associated with home and/or family. Due to the influences of Jupiter in Gemini, you have likely arrived at a fork in the road. Deciphering which is your best direction is at the top of your list.

Sagittarius (Nov 21 – Dec 21)

Balancing an introverted impulse with that of an extroverted desire for self-expression is a current theme. This wanting attention, but also wanting time and space to rest, regroup, and re-center, could be a source of inner conflict and frustration. Since the theme of social outreach will continue beyond the much shorter retreat cycle, you should have your answer.

Capricorn (Dec 21 – Jan 19)

Sometimes advantages and opportunities emerge from what you know, while at other times it is more about whom. The latter is likely the case now so you are wise to direct more of your focus to key connections. It is said that we are five people away from everyone, based on the chain of associations, so reach out to spark communications.

Aquarius (Jan 19 – Feb 19)

Scorpio shares a direct connection with your public status and professional life. In this regard, as public as you can be, you are also very private. This equation of hiding out in the open is a feature of your complexity that even you have struggled to understand. The irony now, despite the secretive and privacy-orientations of Scorpio, is to be seen and acknowledged.

Pisces (Feb 19 – Mar 20)

Scorpio time is one during which you are meant to be both more visionary and philosophical. Seeing a bigger picture at this turn probably includes determining what new sources of knowledge you require. A psychological component is also present implying the process of breaking free of denials, evasions, and unrealistic perspectives.
