Tip of the Week:

The New Moon occurs today at 6:47 EDT and at 14 Cancer 23. It does so in close proximity to Venus all of which are in harmonious aspects to Mars and Saturn.

The lunar rhythms can prove complicated at times, despite the actual weather. So, moods are affected by both the cyclic round of the Moon in its progressive phases and aspects made to other planets, along with the weather which is more fully a factor of Earth's various geographical locations based on longitude and latitude and the respective variations in climate throughout the world. Observing the Moon in its monthly 29.5-day cycle from one New Moon to the next is more than interesting, it can prove to be a very practical guide as well.

As it is, aside from the occasional, off-chance notice of a Full Moon, most people are quite unaware and oblivious to this cyclic process, let alone the sign it is in and its phase. Assured that the Moon does not have any relevant influence, people commonly dismiss it as though only naïve and gullible people 'believe such things', their focus directed to 'the news' and other such important intrigues. Is it any wonder that the world has fallen out of tune with nature? The results are quite evident, as chemtrails, for example, crisscross the sky daily influencing the weather, officially denied for many years, but is now openly admitted, as with various geoengineering technologies, but it seems few even notice. As the world turns, and the Moon cycles...

I would love to hear back regarding your relatively recent experiences and observations regarding my Weekly Horoscopes. Do they 'work for you'? Do you feel like they help you to align with the lunar rhythms? Are there any questions you would like to ask? Send me an email - michael@sunstarastrology.com

This is also the time of year when I offer my Annual Client Appreciation Sale, which amounts to some considerable savings. Whether you are ready for some relevant insight and guidance now, and/or you want to pay it forward, (since any time purchased never expires), or you want to give someone you care about a gift, now is the time to do it!

Weekly Horoscope:

Aries (Mar 21 – Apr 19)

This lunation cycle seeded in nurturing and family-oriented Cancer will hit close to home, both literally and figuratively. It implies new developments and changes that are likely to keep you busy. The pace has probably already been quite accelerated as you attend to more fronts than usual. Fortunately, Mercury in Leo is supporting a sporting attitude.

Taurus (Apr 20 – May 20)

Upon reflection, it should become obvious that much of your thinking and mode of perception significantly surrounds family. You might think this is true for everyone, but not to the same degree. Creative thinking to ever make improvements in one way or another is as consistent as the orbit of the Moon, and this theme is getting amplified now.

Gemini (May 21 – Jun 21)

Making efforts to increase your overall sense of security is in the spotlight, with the Sun in Cancer and even more so thanks to this New Moon. To this end, your creative wheels are turning progressively faster. Ironically, among the best strategies is to take care of yourself and this includes tending to your emotional state, which is best done by way of creative activities.

Cancer (Jun 22 – Jul 22)

Naturally, the New Moon in your own sign is extra special and significant. It implies an impulse to take new initiatives. Some of these are likely to occur in the privacy of your own home, or even in that of your own mind. Expressing your feelings is featured and could manifest as literal words shared or in the way of art.

Leo (Jul 23 – Aug 23)

Changes close to home and with family are being seeded by the New Moon. These will likely produce some measure of excitement, yet also perhaps complexity and moodiness. You may get some reminders of whether you are getting your needs met by current realities. There is a social element at play, and it will pull on your otherwise inclination to remain in the nest.

Virgo (Aug 24 – Sep 22)

Getting more attention publicly and professionally continues. You are destined to undergo what can be described as a process of contracted expansion. The contracted part implies sincere effort. This includes homework, at least a fair amount of behind-the-scenes activity. Positively, you are enjoying an innovative process aligned with your sense of individuality.

Libra (Sep 23 – Oct 22)

New beginnings in your overall social status affecting your home and family advance to the next level this week. There are some positive support factors at play that involve travel and adventure. You could even be shopping around for a new career, home and/or lifestyle altogether. Since health themes are prominent, these are motivating factors.

Scorpio (Oct 23 – Nov 21)

Seeing a bigger picture with a visionary perspective on your future continues. Being true to your core sense of individuality is part of the plot and could require self-reflection to identify more fully. Self-honesty is a keyword for your success which includes being your own best friend. Give yourself the benefit of the doubt and vote for yourself.

Sagittarius (Nov 22 – Dec 21)

The deep dive you were compelled to take a couple of weeks ago now requires you to go even deeper. The goal is to access what you feel you truly need beyond all orientations to sacrifice and thereby deny these for the sake of others. Whatever your rationale, be careful not to yield too much lest the imbalance tips you overboard unprepared.

Capricorn (Dec 22 – Jan 19)

Who do you love and why? Answering such questions need not be difficult but could be if you convinced yourself that you do not need such feelings. The good news is that you get to remember and acknowledge the significant others in your life, which usually brings happy returns. Think with your heart and feel with your mind.

Aquarius (Jan 20 – Feb 19)

Adjustments, improvements, and outright changes in your daily rhythm and perhaps even lifestyle are underway. At least you are engaged in discussions about these matters with significant others. Fortunately, you are in a creative, playful, sporting, and adventurous mood so you are in a good place to entertain the possibilities.

Pisces (Feb 20 – Mar 20)

With your confidence levels steadily rising, you are in the mood to make some bold moves. Or at least you are willing to give serious consideration to doing so. You will experience a growing determination to get to the bottom of things. Yet doing so will require a healthy measure of creative, and constructively critical thinking.
