The Fall Equinox begins in the Northern Hemisphere
on September 22nd at 8:43 am EDT

Greetings, it is I, Aca'u who speaks to you now.

Chaotic energies escalate; stay as centered as you can. If you have permitted your meditation practice to wain, now is the time to reingage. Use your spiritual practices, tools and techniques to provide you with the guidance and support you need. Revisit teachings, connect with others and encourage each other in the process. In my last message, I spoke of the importance for you to rest and recharge this summer. For you have an important role to play in the coming year. May you enter this equinox period with clarity and strength.

The wars continue until mankind is ready to put down their weapons and work towards peace. It is not only 'out there' I speak of. I suggest you look within to where there is war inside yourself. When do you say, "enough" and permit the other to have their opinion, without needing to put your values onto them? These past few years have inflamed an attitude of self-righteousness. Yet, everyone has the right to think and act of their own free will. Where it goes too far is when the will and rights of another are trampled.

As a country, the United States, as well as many other countries, is finding its way in terms of defining its platform. Is this 'the land of the free'? Has freedom gone too far? What limits need to be established and which need to be removed? How will you define yourself as a country?

Don't expect these answers to come overnight. This is a process that will take some time to unfold. The wheels of evolution turn slowly, yet each person makes their mark. It is a time when each country decides their foundational principles in these beginning steps of the Age of Aquarius. An age that is approximately 2,500 years long.

As Julian often says, hatred will not be tolerated in this new age. Those who hate will either self-destruct, be destroyed or nature will intervene. What you are witnessing now are pockets of hatred throughout the world being exposed in order to be addressed. You cannot restore balance if you can't identify where the chaos is.

Nature responds in kind.

This is a time of purging, growth, and yes, unification. People are hungry for healthy connections and unification. Look for common ground. Look to where bridges can be built between divergent perspectives. What can we agree on? Let's start from there. Look in your own backyard, with your relationships with family, neighbors, and friends. You can differ wildly in your beliefs yet still treat one another with respect and kindness. Even within the self; where are you judging yourself? Rather than condemn this or that as 'wrong' or 'bad', try acceptance. Accept the situation just as it is right now, whether you like it or not, and know with a certainty - in the very bones of you - that peaceful resolve is coming. Create bridging thoughts and actions to take you from where you are today to a future you desire, one of peace and well-being. If you cannot conceive of this, how can it be made manifest? In the darkest days, you can light a candle.

In the United States, major elections are near. For you and for others when their elections take place, think carefully about the future you desire. Take time to research and vote accordingly. Create a world where a person can feel productive, respected, and safe. You are creating the future, not just for yourself but for generations to come. You may not see the fruits of your labor in this lifetime, yet trust that you are an architect of the future. Build where you can, as you can, a world of unification. For that is your path. We are all one and each will find their Light in time. People evolve at different rates but each is your brother and sister. Remember that.

Know you are Divinely loved, guided, and protected. For it is in the mind of God that you live, move, and have your being. What then need you fear?

I bid you peace,
Aca'u
